1951 CROP OFFERS

MUSTARD

At prices below current cost, we are able to supply for delivery after harvest:

Mustard Chinese Smoothleaf
Florida Broadleaf
Fordhook Fancy
Southern Giant Curled Longstanding
Tendergreen

Except for the Tendergreen, these Mustards are Holland grown, produced by the best growers in that country. The Tendergreen is offered for account of T. Sakata & Company, Yokohama, who introduced this variety into the United States. As this vegetable is a native of Japan, it can be produced at low cost and is offered at interesting prices.

TURNIP SEED

All of the growers with whom we spoke at the Cincinnati Meeting of the A. S. T. A. reported very short yields. With Europe out, in fact in some cases actually looking for seed in this country, we suggest you take inventory of your supplies. If you are short, we can just now still supply most varieties.
